WE ARE

SoftServe is a digital authority that advises and provides services at the cutting-edge level of technology. We empower enterprises and software companies to (re)identify their differentiation, accelerate solution development, and vigorously compete in today's digital economy.

We're working on 1,100+ projects with clients in the USA, Europe, and APAC regions.

Our people help transform, accelerate, and optimize how our clients, including ISVs and Fortune 500 companies, do business. We are keeping our fingers crossed for having 800+ colleagues at SoftServe Romania by 2025.

We are currently looking for a Project Manager to work in Bucharest on a long-term basis.

IF YOU ARE

Expert with automotive domain experience (manufacturing experience is nice to have)

Proficient in establishing consistent project management processes within the project

Skilled in establishing, managing, and regularly improving service and process-related metrics

Experienced in managing project-related day-to-day operational activities

Strong in leading and guiding teams of engineers to drive them, decompose the complexity of tasks, communicate, and convince

Professional in facilitating project roadmap creation

Good at establishing proper communication with the client's technical team and product owner

Experienced in motivating, guiding, coaching, and encouraging direct subordinates

Proficient in mitigation of conflicts and communication problems arising within services

The one who can provide project status reports to the stakeholders in business language, while communicating on technical aspects of the project with architects and the engineering leadership team

Proficient in identifying the resources required for successful project execution, such as hardware, software, and infrastructure

An advanced German speaker, well-versed in the language for business-related needs

AND YOU WANT TO

Manage teams of engineers on a day-to-day basis within the SCRUM framework: moderate requirements decomposition, scope items estimation, and WBS development

Facilitate communication with the product owner and engineering team on requirements, priorities, and delivery milestones

Perform risk assessment, define dependencies and assumptions, review technical specifications and architecture documentation, facilitate communication with the architecture team on identified discrepancies or potential risks

Manage project scope, maintaining timely identification of scope changes, analyzing their impact on schedule and budget, and proper communication to Change Review Board and project stakeholders

Define and gather project health metrics

Oversee project advancement, ensuring alignment with pre-established customer milestones, and providing regular project status updates to stakeholders

Review team performance, timely identify, and remove roadblocks on the team's way to success

Manage the client's expectations: monitor and contribute to the increase of CSAT, facilitate project-related client communication at all levels

Ensure the effectiveness of the project team structure

TOGETHER WE WILL

Win big and challenging deals, sign new logos, and work with world-leading companies

Be a trusted advisor and the catalyst for the transformation and innovation agenda for world-leading companies

Assimilate best practices from experts, working in a team of top-notch experts, learn from leaders from different organizations

Have a chance to address different business and technology challenges, proactively propose and implement new technologies and trends, drive multiple projects and initiatives

Coordinate and run presentations of work on international events: conferences, meetups, and specialized events

Make an impact at the organizational level and motivate people around you

Enjoy 25 paid days off during the year

Have a consistent monthly Edenred Benefit budget

Use our access to expert communities, paid certifications, and professional events

Benefit from SoftServe University and have access to over 10,000 learning options from Udemy
